Realty firm Gaurs Group is taking care of the nutritional needs of its labour force working at its various projects.

The labourers are being given a month's ration supply and other necessary things said a company press release. The Group is also making the workers aware of this pandemic so that they can stay away from this disease.

Besides giving shelter its labourers, the Group has also extended financial help to the administration by giving a cheque of Rs 5 lakh.

Manoj Gaur, MD, Gaurs Group, said, "We are extending our gratitude to the workers by giving them food material in this tense global situation. We will be with them throughout this lockdown situation. All of us have to come together to help the needy. We pray to God that everyone should get rid of this pandemic at the earliest."
